

Council of the INSPECTORS GENERAL
on INTEGRITY and EFFICIENCY

BETH A. HOFFMAN LEÓN
Audit, Inspection, and Evaluation Academy
Director

Beth joined the Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency Training Institute in June 2011 as the Director of the Audit, Inspection, and Evaluation Academy.

She began her government career with the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO) working as an evaluator and auditor reviewing a wide range of programs at the Departments of Defense and State. Later, while working in GAO's International Affairs and Trade team, she managed the execution of numerous audits that addressed drug trafficking, arms control, nonproliferation, Cooperative Threat Reduction, and Chemical Weapons Convention issues.

From 2006 to 2008 she was detailed to GAO's Learning Center where she managed numerous training courses and implemented a training curriculum for all new hires in GAO headquarters. She permanently joined the Learning Center in 2009 and served as the Director of Adjunct Faculty and Strategic Learning Programs. She worked with the Chief Learning Officer and Learning Center colleagues to coordinate, design, and deliver learning programs and performance support tools for all GAO staff. She also recruited, trained, and coordinated the activities of some 300 GAO Adjunct Faculty members involved in the design and delivery of Learning Center curricula.

For her service to GAO, Beth received a number of awards including Customer Service, Meritorious Service, and Managing Director's awards.

Prior to her GAO career, she interned in the offices of the late Senator John Heinz and retired Congressman Bill Goodling, both of Pennsylvania. She received both her Master's Degree in Public and International Affairs, and Bachelors' Degrees in Political Science and History from the University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.
